

Southland's Largest Rink To Be Constructed in Area

Los Angeles County's largest ice skating rink — a 20,250-square-foot slab of ice housed in a 32,000-square-foot building — soon is to be constructed in the Lomita area.

It will be named the "Olympic Ice Arena," according to Ian Pinkerton, the rink's general manager and spokesman for a group of South Bay backers.

The rink will encompass the most modern architecture, refrigeration and patron services possible, according to Pinkerton. A contract is expected to be awarded and construction to commence within 30 days. A November completion date is planned.

ARCHITECTURE will be of a ski lodge motif, with a tendency toward the modern, according to architect William Wooley and Associates.

A novel, but pleasant, feature of the new ice arena will be a fireplace in an open area near the rink for skaters use, much in the fashion of ski lodge decor and festivity.

A unique spectator attraction will be a restaurant from which diners will view skating rink activity through a massive plate glass window. The restaurant will be a plane higher and separate from the rink. Restaurant tables will face the rink on a tiered arrangement, with entrance to the restaurant from the outside.

OTHER FEATURES of Olympic Ice Arena will be a coffee shop for skaters and visitors; seating capacity for 500 persons rinkside; a "club room" for skate groups and clubs, complete with its own fireplace, lockers, closets, trophy cases and furnishings; a "tug shop" for skates and skating accessories; plus a shop at which figure, hockey and speed skates will be rented and repaired.

"Patch Ice," an arrangement whereby competitive skaters may rent portions of the rink for practice, will be available, Pinkerton said.

EXACT LOCATION of the ice arena will be on the east side of Western Ave. at its juncture with 238th St. The three-acre plot has an 1100-foot frontage facing on Western Ave.

Total cost of the project will be $500,000, Pinkerton said. Long-range development will include other buildings on the acreage for small stores and shops. Dimensions of the plot of ice will be 90 by 225 feet, making it the largest in the county and allowing for a total square footage of 20,250. Other facilities in the building will utilize the remainder of the 32,000 square feet. INSTRUCTION will be available for novices, intermediates, and advanced skaters, Pinkerton said. The scheme and preparation of the new rink has been done with the intention of making ice skating the same pleasant sport and recreation for South-ern Californians that it has been for families elsewhere in the country for centuries, Pinkerton said.
